WAS BOTTOMS MURDERED?

NEW LIGHT SHED ON TRAGIC DEATH OF S. S. BOTTOMS AT ARDMORE.

J. K. Bottoms, brother of S. S. Bottoms who died at Ardmore about ten days ago, gives the following facts concerning the tragic end of his brother. During the night he was found by the police in the alley at the rear of the rooming house at which he was staying. He had been stricken across the head and his ribs were broken and crushed. He was taken to the hospital where he died a little later. It was reported at the time that he had sustained these injuries as a result of a fall from the platform of the back stairway, but after an investigation Mr. J. K. Bottoms and others think it is very probable that he was murdered and robbed, for he always carried a good sum of money, and none was found after his death. A number of circumstances point to truth of the murder theory, and it is possible that something sensational may yet be unearthed by the authorities.

The remains were brought back to Ada by J. K. Bottoms and J. D. Myers and interred at the Egypt cemetery.

MISS MURRAY LUCAS ELECTED TO POSITION AT EDMOND

While in session here the board of normal regents confirmed the appointment of Miss Murray Lucas as assistant in the piano department of the Edmond Normal, under Miss Case. She went to Edmond at the beginning of the term with the understanding that she was to be confirmed later, and the action of the board indicates that she is giving good satisfaction in her position. Miss Murray is a talented young lady and we congratulate her on the recognition given her by the board.

MAKING IT HOT FOR LIQUOR MEN

ED BRENTS HAVING LIVELY TIMES WITH ILLICIT SALOONS IN MINNESOTA.

"The Pussyfoot Johnson Booze special," composed of nine cars, left Detroit yesterday morning and arrived in the Twin Cities last night. T. E. Brents, nemesis of liquor dealers in the Indian country, closely followed the special on the regular Northern Pacific passenger train. He came to see that the carloads of liquor were not sidetracked between Detroit and Minneapolis. He was accompanied by Clarence T. Johnson, the 22-year-old son of "Pussyfoot" Johnson, chief Indian agent.

It required the efforts of 50 men, working for 12 hours at Detroit Friday, to load the nine cars composing the train. The shipping bills show that more than 5,000 cases, kegs, barrels and demijohns were consigned to one St. Paul wholesale liquor firm.

Agent Brents, in charge of the raid permitted the saloon keepers to sell or return all liquor in their establishments providing the various saloons were entirely cleared by 7 o'clock Friday evening. Only 20 gallons of whiskey, 24 gallons of wine, 40 cases and one barrel of beer were destroyed in the raid at Detroit. According to Mr. Brents, even this much would not have been poured into the gutters had the proprietors not tried to smuggle it from their buildings.

Four saloons and two agencies for foreign breweries were closed by Brents and his deputies in Friday's raid at Detroit. The saloonmen have informed the Indian agents that they will under no circumstances reopen their places of business.

Speaking of the work accomplished in enforcing the Chippewa treaty of 1855 in the forbidden territory, Mr. Brents said last night at the West: "During the past seven days I have caused 21 carloads of liquor to be loaded and shipped back to the original owners and destroyed more than 3,000 gallons of whisky and 41 cases and barrels of beer."

Thirty Liquor Men Face Trial.

He, in company with Clarence T. Johnson, leaves tonight for Sioux Falls, S. D. They will appear as witnesses at the coming session of court in that city. Thirty violators of liquor laws on and in the vicinity of the Rosebud and Pine Ridge reservations are on the calendar for trial. "Pussyfoot" Johnson left Saturday morning for Detroit to take personal charge of the work in that section of the state.

Many numerous situations confront the federal agents in their work of closing the saloons. On the back of the bar in one of the Detroit saloons Mr. Brents was confronted by the following motto: "Treat the booze quietly, don't fight it—it's bigger than you are." The agent said he failed to follow the advice given in the sign. At another place he was greeted by "The Glad Hand." It was made of glass and Mr. Brents carried it along with him as a relic.

When he returns from Sioux Falls he says it is his intention to start in and make a general clean-up of every saloon in the territory in which he has been working for the past month.

Detroit land men and others interested in local business affairs are planning to put the liquor question squarely before the Northern Minnesota Development association when it convenes in Brainerd Dec. 1, to determine if some action may be taken to set aside the liquor clause in the Indian treaties. They are not optimistic regarding congressional action along this line, and say none may be hoped for unless there is a far-reaching sentiment against the "lid."—Minneapolis (Minn.) Tribune.

HASKELL TO THE LEGISLATURE

INSISTS THAT THE EXPRESSED WILL OF THE PEOPLE BE CARRIED OUT.

In his message to the legislature regarding the capital removal, Gov. Haskell takes occasion to review the whole question from its beginning in the early days of the territory until the present time, and recommends that the will of the people as expressed five different times be carried into effect by the legislature at once. The message concludes thus:

In conclusion, I call your attention to the following facts:

By a direct vote of the people, or through their representatives elected to the legislature, the question of changing the capital city has five times been voted upon and every time the vote has carried to change the capital.

I call your attention to the fact that Guthrie has no claim, legal, equitable or moral, to the honor of being the capital city. It has at all times sought to defeat the will of the people by an appointed governor's veto, by court litigation or by acts of congress unwarranted and unauthorized; that Guthrie has at all times received substantial payment from the people for every favor the territory or the state has had.

Our taxpayers are even yet today paying substantially twenty-three thousand dollars per year for the rent and maintenance of offices in Guthrie; that this special session of the legislature was necessary in order to save the existing contract expiring on December twentieth in case no more desirable tender is made the state and that the entire expense of this special session need not equal more than six months office rent now being paid at the present capital, and that it places Oklahoma in the position of having the city favored by the people with the seat of state government of the state to the end that an ample state capitol building, furnished and ready for use, will be acquired by the state free from cost of a single dollar to our taxpayers; and to those who say that Oklahoma is a great rich state and should not object to assessing its taxpayers for the cost of capitol buildings and equipment, I desire to reply that no business man or corporation ever grows so rich but what in making its location to the favor of any city or community it invariably expects that community to share the profits in dollars and cents and that it is your duty and my duty as official representatives of our people to conduct their business with the same care and interest and the same economy that the shrewdest business man of our state would conduct his own private business.

WATERWORKS A PAYING IN- VESTMENT.

It will require $13,500 per annum to pay the interest and provide for the sinking fund on a bond issue of $150,000 necessary to put the Byrd's Mill extension through. Mayor Little states that the city will save $7,000 on the expense of pumping the water, leaving a balance of only $6,500 to be provided for by taxation. Furthermore, the increase in the number of water consumers will easily care for that. In fact, there is no doubt about the investment being a paying one. Last year the receipts from the water system of Dallas amounted to something more than $200,000 while the operating expenses were $85,000, leaving a handsome balance to the credit of the water works fund.

Most towns are put to great expense in filtering their water supply.
Ada would not be out a cent for that purpose on the Byrd's Mill proposition, and with the increased demand for the water could make a handsome profit out of the enterprise.

The News would oppose any further increase of the bonded indebtedness of the city for anything except some enterprise that would pay for itself. The Byrd's Mill extension is just such an enterprise and for that reason has our hearty support.

About the worst knocker any community can have is the conceited fellow who knocks on everything for the public good that some one else puts on foot. He wants to tear down everything that was planned without first getting his O. K.

The man who goes about with an air of apologizing for his very existence seldom finds anyone who cares to accept the apology.

MAY REOPEN COLUMBIA CASE

SUPREME COURT RULES AGAINST GOVERNOR AND PERMITS EXAMINATION.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 29.—The affairs of the defunct Columbia Bank and Trust Company, of Oklahoma City, which failed Sept. 29, 1909, with $3,000,000 deposit, cost the bank guaranty fund $600,000 in immediate cash paid out to depositors and, it is alleged, caused the subsequent failure of the Farmers' National bank of Tulsa and First State bank of Kiefer, may be in the limelight again soon.

The supreme court today, in a very emphatically written opinion by Associate Justice R. L. Williams, granted State Inspector and Examiner C.
A. Taylor a preemptory mandamus, directing Bank Commissioner E. B.
Cockrill to submit all records and papers relative to the Columbia Bank and Trust or any other failed banks to the state examiner for regular checking up and accounting.

The opinion even goes further and informs the state inspector and examiner that he may call any officer or stock holder of the failed banks to come before him with all records in their possession and submit them to examination; to compel which attendance subpoenas may be issued with a misdemeanor penalty for refusal to appear on the part of the parties subpoenaed and a perjury charge for any false statements made by said subpoenaed parties.

Under present conditions the waterworks system of Ada lacks about $4,000 annually of meeting its operating expenses. This must be made good from taxation. On the other hand if pure water could be had the demand would increase until this deficit would be converted to a cash balance and the people be relieved of that much taxation.

Bank Changes at Roff.

Roff, Ok., Nov. 29.—Tom G. Taylor and Delmer E. Taylor have closed out their interest in the Farmers' bank of Roff and their residence property to F. E. Gilmore of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Gilmore becomes cashier of the Farmers' bank. Delmar Taylor returns to Honey Grove, Tex., and Tom G. Taylor has been appointed clerk to the Bank Examiner of the state and has taken up his residence in Oklahoma City.

The High Cost of Living Reduced.

Much has been said about the high cost of living, its causes, and the possibilities of its reduction. But little has been said about the most costly leak; the false economy existing today in nearly every household.

Much foodstuffs are bought with but one point in view: "How cheap can I get it?" without a thought of quality or "after cost." One of the most serious is baking powder.

By the use of perfect baking powder the housewife can derive as much economy as from any other article used in baking and cooking. In selecting the baking powder, therefore, care should be exercised to purchase one that retains its original strength and always remains the same, thus making the food sweet and wholesome and producing sufficient leavening gas to make the baking light.

Very little of this leavening gas is produced by the cheap baking powders, making it necessary to use double the quantity ordinarily required to secure good results.

You cannot experiment every time you make a cake or biscuits, or test the strength of your baking powder to find out how much of it you should use; yet with most baking powders you should do this for they are put together so carelessly they are never uniform, the quality and strength varying with each can purchased.

Calumet Baking Powder is made of chemically pure ingredients of tested strength. Experienced chemists put it up. The proportions of the different materials remain always the same. Sealed in air-tight cans. Calumet Baking Powder does not alter in strength and is not affected by atmospheric changes.

In using Calumet you are bound to have uniform bread, cake or biscuits, as Calumet does not contain any cheap, useless or adulterating ingredients so commonly used to increase the weight. Further, it produces pure, wholesome food, and is a baking powder of rare merit; therefore, is recommended by leading physicians and chemists. It complies with all pure food laws, both STATE and NATIONAL. The goods are moderate in price, and any lady purchasing Calumet from her grocer, if not satisfied with it, can return it, and have her money refunded.—203-

The Veiled Prophet.

The celebrated "Veiled Prophet" of history was a Moslem fanatic whose real name was Haken Ibn Hashem. He was born about the middle of the eighth century and became the most noted imposter of the middle ages. He pretended that he was an embodiment of the spirit of the "living God" and, being very proficient in jugglery (which the ignorant mistook for the power to work miracles), soon drew an immense number of followers around him. He always wore a gold mask, claiming that he did so to protect the mortals of this earth, who, he said, could not look upon his face and live.

At last, after thousands had quitted the city and even left the employ of the Caliph al Mohdi to join the fanatical movement, an army was sent against the Veiled Prophet forcing him to flee for safety to the castle at Keh, north of the Oxus. Finally, when ultimate defeat was certain, the prophet killed and burned his whole family and then threw himself into the flames, being entirely consumed, except his hair, which was kept in a museum at Bagdad until the time of the crusades. He promised his faithful followers that he would reappear to them in the future dressed in white and riding a white horse.

The World's Greatest Text Book.

It is the plan of the normal school to have a live talk from some one at the General Assembly each morning at 10:30. Saturdays are taken by the pastors of the city, and next Saturday is Brother Anderson's day. But today we had the subject by Capt. Roddie, "The World's Greatest Text Book." The text referred to above is the Bible. The speaker proposed many questions which man wants to know about himself: Whence he came, whither he is going, what are his moral obligations while here, how he shall treat his neighbors, etc., and showed that the Bible is the only book which gives him satisfactory answers to these questions. Many things the mind may work out for itself, but others must be given to it. In this sense the mind is receptive. It is willing and anxious to receive information from revelations without.

Athens and Corinth loved sculpture and painting, and made advances in learning unequalled, but still Greece fell. Greece and Rome had a wonderful grasp on philosophy, still they had no correct notion of God.

Some said God is one, others taught there are gods many. Socrates himself, their greatest teacher, who seems to have known every thing, had no very definite idea of God. This all shows man must depend on revelation. This is what the Bible is, yet it tells of men's hearts—coming from the heart of writers. It came from many hearts in many different languages, under many different conditions, and yet all agree.

These men must have been the best men in the world at that time. Impostors could not so well have agreed. In fact impostors could not have agreed at all. But these many different writers, writing at such different times and under such different circumstances have been collected into a single book which has in it no disagreement. The plan, preservation and unity of the Bible show its divinity. Each writer unfolds a plan entirely separate from the other, knowing nothing about the plans of many others, and a plan which he himself did not understand and yet all combine into a beautiful unity. No mere human production can show this one ness. No human production can do as it has never done, what the Bible has done.

Capt. Roddie closed with these words, "Go on thou glorious Old Book thou hast produced an influence on the world of mankind greater than it was possible for any human production to have done. Go on, then. thou canst teach the rich man how to use his wealth, the poor man how to be happy in his cabin; thou canst teach all men the way of salvation, and when we die thou dost give to all of us the hope and promise of immortality, and thou dost kindle a light in the grave which all the raging cycles of hell can not extinguish."

Back Number Merchant.

The merchant who sits back and desires to wait until others do something is the one element in merchandising that is absolutely useless. He occupies the place that should be occupied by a better man; he lessens the profits of the honest toiler; he takes that which others create; he impedes progress; he is a stumbling block for the young and an eyesore for the old.

He deplores conditions, but does nothing to help remedy them. He thinks organization a good thing, but does not join. He wants others to pull the wagon out of the mud and will ride when it is out. He always "told you so" if an effort fails, yet never made an honest effort in his life. A wart on a man's nose is a beauty spot compared with a do-nothing merchant in merchandising. One honest worker is worth ten of the do-nothing kind.—Exchange.

THE BEST KIND OF PROTECTION.

you can give your home is to install electricity. Burglaries seldom occur in homes where an up-to-date electric system is in use. By the simple pressure of a button, you can flood your home with light and no burglar will tarry long where he is likely to be seen. Also an electric burglar alarm system will announce any effort to force an opening. These are only two of the many uses to which electricity can be put to about your home.
